

THE BENEFITS OF GLASS BOTTLED WATER

Lipsey Offers Water with Class

Lipsey Mountain Spring Water is dedicated to bringing the freshest, most pure water to your home or office. To accomplish this, we insist on glass containers for Lipsey Mountain Spring Water.

Why? Glass is the only manmade material that can withstand the high temperatures needed for sterilization. It is also a non-porous and inert material, which means chemicals and harmful bacteria cannot leach to taint your water. By using only glass containers and an exclusive micro-filtration cooler system, we're protecting Lipsey water's purity and smooth taste -- from our mountain spring, direct to your table.

While recent studies may argue benefits of plastic, we choose to remain true to our roots and to the environment. It's a premium offering that makes a difference.

Listed below are some of the many benefits of glass water over plastic bottled water:

The Quality of Glass

- Glass is the only packaging material certified generally "regarded as safe" by the U.S. Food & Drug Administration.
- Glass bottles have a/ways been bisphenol-A (BPA) free. Hundreds of studies have linked the BPA chemical found in many plastics to cancer, diabetes, heart disease and other health problems.
- Extensive heat – which is required for sterilization - does not harm glass containers or release toxins into the water.
- Glass is nonporous, impermeable and air-tight. This means there are no interactions between the glass packaging and products to affect the taste of beverages.

Part of Green Living

- Glass bottles are made from natural, nontoxic raw materials such as silica, sand, soda ash, limestone... making them one of the most pure containers available.
- Glass bottles are 100% recyclable. Unlike plastic, glass does not require the use of petroleum in its manufacturing process.
- According to Earth911.com, a recycled glass container can go from a recycling bin to a store shelf in as little as 30 days. It's a renewable resource that won't clog landfills for years to come.
